

THIS IS THE SAFETY AREA

The diagram illustrates the layout of a 4x6 inch postcard. It features four registration marks (crosshairs) at the corners. The layout is defined by several nested rectangles: a light blue innermost rectangle for the active area, a light pink middle rectangle for the bleed area, and a light green outermost rectangle for the trim area. Three arrows point from text labels to the top edge of these areas: a pink arrow for the safety area, a black arrow for the trim area, and a green arrow for the bleed area.
